Executive Summary

Impact of COVID19 on Nigeria Education

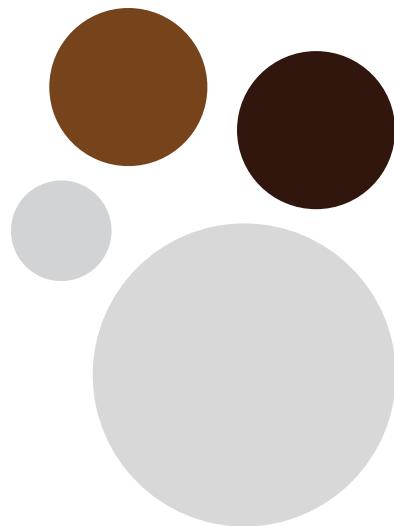

Despite promises by political leaders to prioritize access to education for every citizen, this sector continues to face existential challenges across the 36 states of Nigeria. Dilapidated schools, poor teachers' welfare, out of school children, poor learning outcomes have become features of education in 2020.

A major theme in this report has been the focus on the increasing number of out of school children especially due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Globally, the education of 1.9billion persons was adversely affected with 900 million pre-primary to secondary students set to return to school between August and October 2020.

According to our survey on the impact of COVID19 on Education, 66% of respondents were not satisfied with government's response in the education sector while 51% of respondents want the federal government to develop online learning platforms.

The COVID19 pandemic has reduced classroom learning with 43% of respondents using online learning platform and 22% learnt used broadcast media. There is no better time when government officials must provide increased education funding to address the growing education inequality among citizens especially in poor communities.

STATES EDUCATION FUND (2019/20)

States Allocation Rank & Percentage

Education policy document and action plan remains the fulcrum to deliver quality education for every citizen in Nigeria. Funding remains the #1 indicator of state government priority towards human capital development and citizens education.

In 2020, Lagos state allocated the highest amount to education but still failed to meet the United Nations recommendation of 26%. Only Kogi and Nasarawa state met the UNESCO standard in 2020 at 28% and 26% respectively.

Between 2016 to 2020, we saw an increase in education allocation from N444.53bn across 17 states in 2016 to N963.3bn across 28 states in 2020 as government officials become more transparent.

Though among state governors, the culture of meagre allocations among state governors to the education sector has become a norm in Nigeria. Between 2019 & 2020, 13 states added to their education allocation unlike 9 states that reduced their education allocation.

Out Of School Children

From our analysis, 4 states (Katsina, Akwa Ibom, Kebbi, Kano, Yobe) have more than 500,000 out of school children while 7 states (Cross River, Abia, Lagos, Enugu, Bayelsa, Gombe, Ekiti) have less than 100,000 out of school children.

13 states like Zamfara, Yobe, Taraba, Borno, Rivers, Sokoto, Benue, Niger, Bauchi, Oyo, Kaduna, Ondo and Bayelsa have more than 25% out of school children among their school age population. Consequently, only 3 out of this 13 states (Rivers, Zamfara, Kaduna) allocated more to their education sector in 2020.

This indicates that state governments the priority level of increasing access to education and addressing the looming danger of out of school children in their respective states. With the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic, it is expected that more children will be out of school.

#StatesEducationFund

STATES EDUCATION FUND (2019/20)

If government officials are to address education inequality in their state, they must ensure to allocate atleast 26% of their annual budget to the education sector. This will improve the state of public schools, improve teachers' welfare, meet their targets in the education plan, and improve learning outcomes among school children.

UBEC Grant & Projects

One of the ways the Federal Government support state governments in improving basic education is through the Universal Basic Education Commission. While much has been done through providing counterpart funding and implementing education projects, access to education for children continues to reduce.

When the UBEC grants was introduced by the Federal government in 2005, the idea was generally applauded to address basic education challenges and provide intervention to support state governments.

Since 2005 that 33 states accessed their UBEC grants, the number of states that have not accessed and provide counterpart funding for their UBEC grants have increased. Between 2005 – 2019, N417.99bn was accessed out of a total fund of N469.6bn leaving N51.61bn idle in the bank while access to basic education for every child continues to deteriorate across the states.

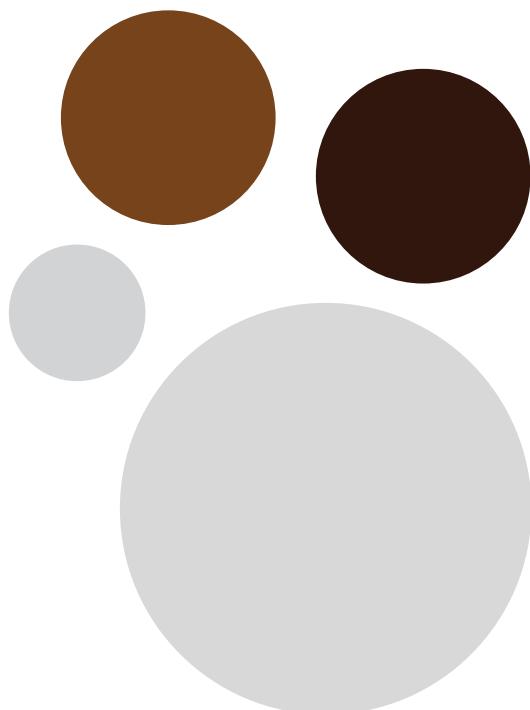

The current state of basic education, it has become imperative for state government officials to access UBEC grants on a yearly basis, but as at December 2019, 16 states like Lagos, Ekiti, Niger, Enugu, Abia, Rivers, Adamawa, Oyo, Plateau, Kaduna, Benue, Anambra, Bayelsa, Edo, Ogun and Ondo state have more than N1bn unaccessed UBEC grants.

In 2019, the Federal Government through the Paris Club fund deducted UBEC counterpart funding for each state. For states that haven't provided their counterpart funding, they were able to increase their disbursed grants.

#StatesEducationFund

STATES EDUCATION FUND (2019/20)

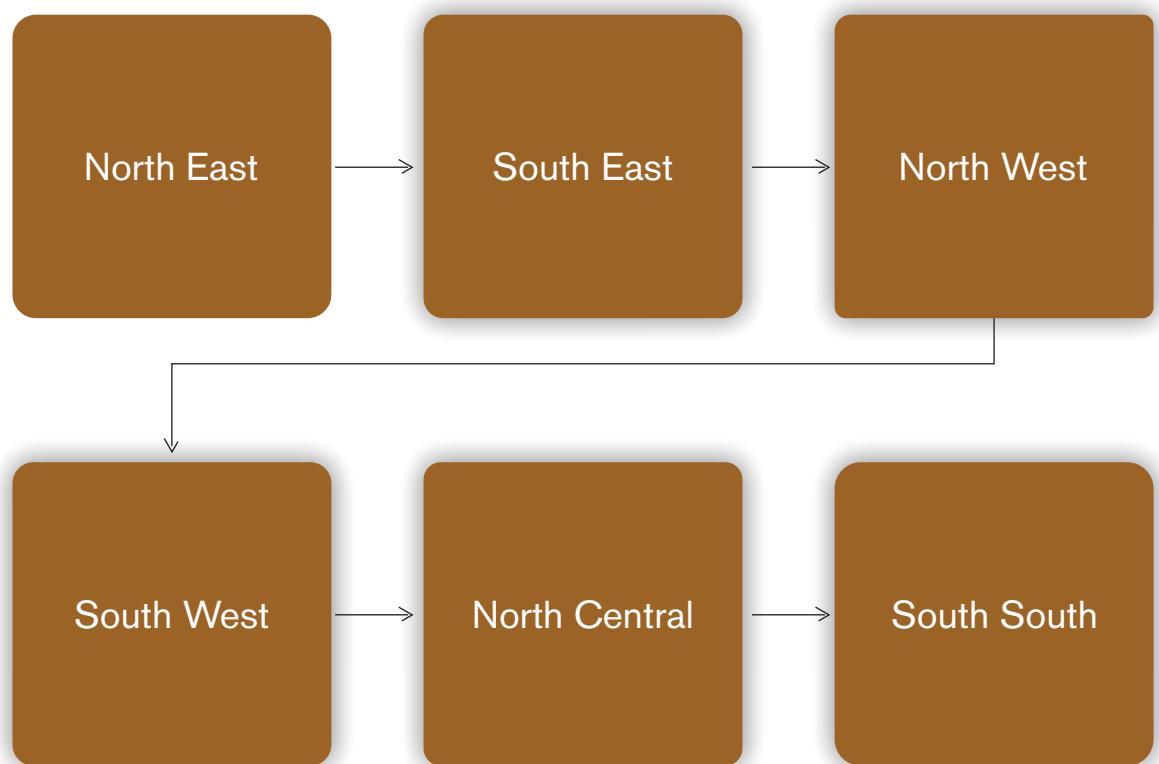

In the 2019 budget, the Federal government through UBEC (Universal Basic Education Commission) allocated N9.52bn for 159 projects across 33 states of Nigeria and the FCT. In the 2019 budget, the FG didn't prioritize education projects for 3 states; Bayelsa, Enugu and Yobe state. For these states, the federal government intervention on basic education projects will not happen which further hampers access to education for children in those states.

Conclusion

In order to improve access to education at the state level, funding must address education needs and policy targets in the education plan.

However, accountability and transparency in education must be improved to strengthen partnerships and deliver quality education across the 36 states of Nigeria.

In summary, some of our recommendations to government officials and education stakeholders across the 36 states of Nigeria include;

Open Access

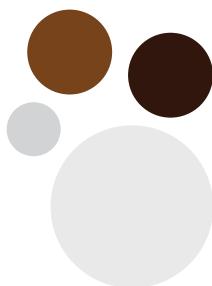

State officials have continued to improve open access to data especially in making their education spending available online whether via newspaper publications or on their state government website. There remains the need for more state governors to ensure they make their education spending available online in simpler forms for public access and better understanding.

Increase Released Funds For The Education Sector

While we understand the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on the various sector and especially on Education spending.

We urge state governors to increase released funds to the education sector so the action plan can be implemented and more education projects completed so access to education for every citizen can be improved across the 36 states in Nigeria.

Due to impact of the COVID-19 pandemic, it has become imperative for state governments to implement the UNESCO standard of 26% budgetary allocation to Education in 2021 to close inequality gaps in the education sector.

Fund State Education Plan Effectively

From seventeen (17) states that made their education allocation available in 2016, that number has now increased to twenty seven (27) states in 2020.

From aggregating education allocation since 2016, we've observed the culture of addition and subtraction to education allocation during first year in office and election year.

In 2020, 28 states allocated N963bn, 24 states that allocated N704bn in 2019 unlike in 2016 when 17 states allocated N444.5bn.

This shows a pattern of funding education at government officials' convenience and public narrative rather than funding the state education plan as documented. By ensuring their state education plan are well-funded, officials are increasing access to education in a systemic approach that have bigger gains for the human capital development in their state.
